

It is a pleasure being in my home at night without being harrassed by telemarketers. Not only were they calling all evening long - they were calling by 7:00 am on Saturdays. Some were quite obnoxious as well as being intrusive. This law was long overdue and you should not overturn or dilute in any way. People should be allowed to have some sanctuary in their own home.